

Call for Posters

Scope

The Mobiquitous 2014 Poster Track showcases work in progress research in a more informal setting. Similar to the main MobiQuitous 2014 conference, the Posters Track aims to be a forum for practitioners and researchers from diverse backgrounds to interact and exchange preliminary results about the design and implementation of mobile and ubiquitous systems. Areas addressed by the conference include systems, applications, social networks, middleware, networking, data management and services, all with special focus on mobility and ubiquitous computing. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Wireless Access Technologies
- Networked Sensing, and Applications
- Mobile Device Architectures
- Mobile Systems and Applications
- Mobile Data Management and Analytics
- Mobile Multimedia
- Mobile User Interfaces and Interaction Technologies
- Mobile User Experience
- Toolkit, and Languages for Mobile Computing
- Energy Aware Mobile Computing
- Mobile Cloud Computing
- Semantic Web Technologies
- Localization and Tracking
- Internet of Things – Systems, Data Analytics, and Applications
- Crowdsourcing: - Platforms and Applications
- Participatory Sensing
- Social Network Applications to Mobile Computing
- Context and Location Aware Applications and Services
- Wearable Computing
- Body Area Networks
- Security and Privacy

Papers should be submitted through EasyChair in a PDF format. All papers must be submitted using the EasyChair submission system. Please follow this link to enter your submission.

The Mobiquitous 2014 Poster TPC will rigorously review all papers submitted to this poster Track. . Each accepted poster paper will be allocated two pages in the ACM Digital Library conference proceedings. Submitted papers for review must not exceed 2 pages and should be in PDF, formatted in the ACM Double Column format. Detailed format and submission instructions, including style templates for MS Word and LaTeX are available at the Mobiquitous 2014 Website. At least one author of each accepted poster paper must register for and attend the poster session.
